During this testimony the defendant dropped the heavy veil gathered at the rim of her hat before her face and turned her head to one side so as to avoid Millin's glance.

The witness then told of how the actress had travelled with Young to a race meet at Seattle, soo miles from Oakland. In Seattle she was also living with the boukmaker. Mr. Levy made vicient and vain objections to this testimony, the Court considently overruling him.

Mr. Rand esked the witness what conversation he overheard between Young and Nan Patterson in a Turkish bath. Millin said he heard Young tell Nan that she would have to go a sway.
